Johnson Says: 'GOP Caught Bluffing'

Democrats Told U.S. May Be Deserted

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) declared Thursday night that the Eisenhower administration has been "caught bluffing" by our enemies "and the United States stands in clear danger of being left naked and alone in a hostile world."

The Senate Democratic leader launched an attack on the Republican administration's foreign policies in a speech for a $100-a-plate Jefferson-Jackson dinner.

Rep. Rayburn (D-Tex.) also spoke to the approximately 1,500 party faithful who turned out for the first Washington dinner of its kind since the Democrats went down to defeat in the 1952 presidential election.

Johnson said that while he has no personal criticism of President Eisenhower, the Republican Party is headed "downward" toward loss of control of Congress in the November election.

In a message to the dinner, attended by former President Truman, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, the 1952 party presidential nominee, predicted that the Republicans "will have considerable experience as a minority after November of 1954."

Stevenson exhorted the Democrats to maintain "party equilibrium and steady purpose in the face of the incessant barrage of falsehood and insult to all Democrats which cannot hide the confusion, contradiction and impotence within the majority party."

Stevenson was not able to be present at the two-day conference of the Democratic National Committee, which preceded the dinner. Stevenson is still recovering from a kidney operation.

Former President Truman told the cheering Democrats that "we can't have the friendship of the free world if we are going to insult our Allies."

Rough Day
Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) sits with bowed head at the end of a day's hearing into his row with the Army which had several unhappy moments. He suffered a number of adverse rulings and testimony revealed that a case he had stressed as an incidence of Army "cover up" of Communists involved a man restored to handling of top secrets after a suspension and investigation. 2 Measures Are Passed, Three To Go

Final Votes Will Be Taken Friday
By B. R. ROTHENBERGER
Star Staff Writer
The special session of the Nebraska Legislature Thursday passed two of the five surviving bills that would take tax reform questions to a general fall referendum.

It voted 35 to 1 for LB 1 proposing a constitutional change to permit the Legislature to appoint and define the jurisdiction of the state tax commissioner or a tax commission.

It also passed LB 7 which proposes a constitutional amendment assuring that when a general sales tax or income tax or a combined sales and income tax is passed it shall replace the state property levy. The vote was closer on this, but the bill carried by 29 to 12 with two senators not voting.

The voting left the final three proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on in the Legislature's scheduled closing session Friday morning. They are:

LB 2—to permit the Legislature to provide for appointment of county assessors and boards of equalization and assessment for counties or for other taxing districts. It would end the selection of assessors by popular election and separate the duties of equalization from presently elected county boards of supervisors.

LB 3—to permit the Legislature to provide for the appointment of county assessors and boards of equalization and assessment for counties or for other taxing districts. It would end the selection of assessors by popular election and separate the duties of equalization from presently elected county boards of supervisors.

LB 4—to give the Legislature power to prescribe standards and methods for determining the value of real and other tangible property and uniform and proportionate values.

Joe Defies Ruling By Brownell

McCarthy Claims He Won't Keep Data Secret

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) defied another member of the Eisenhower administration Thursday, declaring he would not abide by Attorney General Brownell's decision that FBI data bearing on a hunt for Communist spies should be kept secret.

The Brownell decision brought a stormy protest from McCarthy, who contends the Army lagged in rooting out alleged subversives from the Ft. Monmouth radar laboratories—a charge hotly denied by Secretary of the Army Stevens.

"I think maybe I have no duty to keep this material secret, and I don't intend to," McCarthy declared at the 11th day of hearings on his row with high Pentagon officials.

He demanded that Brownell, who said publication of the data would be contrary to the public interest, be called before the Senate Investigations Subcommittee to justify his stand.

With this question still open, the McCarthy-Pentagon inquiry delved into the record of a certain "Mr. X," this man never was named, but McCarthy charged he is one of several persons with "Communist connections" who have served on the Pentagon's top security screening board.

John G. Adams, Army counsel, replied that the man had been cleared of security risk allegations after an investigation.

Brownell got into the inquiry when the Senate investigators asked him if it would be all right to make public a "letter" produced earlier by McCarthy—a letter that turned out to be a cut-down version of an FBI memo on the question of espionage at Ft. Monmouth, N.J.

Answer Is 'No'
The Attorney General sent back his answer Thursday. It was no. He said the letter makes "unauthorized use" of secret FBI data. And he ruled it would be against the public interest to disclose either the letter or the 15-page FBI memo from which it was extracted.

Stamp World's Eyes On Nebraska City

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Staff Writer
NEBRASKA CITY, Neb.—The center of interest for stamp enthusiasts throughout the world will be here Friday when the important first-day sales are made of the Nebraska Centennial stamps.

Meeting the demand for special stamp covers has meant taking on a Christmas-rush appearance on the part of the Nebraska City Post Office. With some 40 extra workers keeping busy early and late, the local office hopes to dig itself out from under the crush by this Sunday.

The big moment will come Friday at 7 a.m. when the stamp sale windows open. At that time hundreds of persons, most of them Nebraskans, are expected to step up to buy the special stamps. At 11 a.m. the Nebraska Territorial Commemorative Stamp Ceremony will start at the Pioneer Theater here.

Sweet, Hruska To Speak
J. Hyde Sweet, editor of the Nebraska City News Press, and Rep. Roman L. Hruska of Omaha will be principal speakers, and Mayor Victor D. Bremer will welcome the guests. Albert J. Robertson, assistant postmaster-general, will make a presentation of commemorative albums to dignitaries at the close of the ceremony.

But for the postal workers here, the ceremony will just be another event in a long, hard task. Ralph A. Davis, of the division of philately of the U. S. Post Office Department, said here Thursday that some 400,000 covers and envelopes bearing the stamps will be handled through the office.

Stamp collectors from throughout the world have sent in envelopes and money asking that the special stamps be affixed and the covers mailed out again.

Workers In Basement
The extra workers, occupying temporary basement space, have had to open the assorted packages, read the orders, count the money and handle stamping before the covers are sent upstairs for bundling, sorting and cancellation. The letters are being given only a regional sorting here, and then sent on to Omaha for secondary sorting.

The covers submitted for the stamps vary widely in design. Some show the first governor and first state capital, and others are adorned with a gaudy assortment of colorful historical scenes.

Puppets Want A Voice In Talks

Communists Want Lao And Cambodia At Parley; Monday Start Possible

GENEVA (AP)—The official spokesman for Red China said Thursday night his delegation would demand the admission of Communist puppet governments from Laos and Cambodia to the Indo-China section of the Geneva peace talks.

A French spokesman said France would refuse to sit at the same table with representatives of "phantom regimes which exist only in the imagination of the vietminh."

The Communist-led Vietminh, calling themselves the "Democratic Republic of Viet Nam," consider their authority is limited to Viet Nam, one of the three French Union Associated States of Indo-China. The kingdoms of Cambodia and Laos are the other two.

Russia and the West have agreed that the Indo-China talks will open, perhaps on Monday, with nine delegations at the conference table—the United States, France, Britain, Russia, Red China, the three French union associated states and Vietminh.

But the first item on the agenda is a possible invitation to other delegations. The Communist Chinese spokesman said his delegation would demand admission of the Communist governments of Khmer (Cambodia) and Pathet Lao (Laos) as well as other "interested states," including India, Indonesia and Burma.

The West considers that Communist regimes of Laos and Cambodia are virtually non-existent.

The French, their hand strengthened by the vote of confidence given Premier Joseph Laniel in Paris, were reported still trying desperately for a truce at Dien Bien Phu to permit removal of the wounded. But thus far the French had failed to establish any contact with Communist-led Vietminh representatives here either directly or through an intermediary such as the Red Cross.

No Known Contacts
There were no known contacts between East and West on higher levels.

The French made a tentative effort to obtain the International Committee of the Red Cross as intermediary in seeking a truce.

Although both the French and the all-Swiss committee declined any information, it was learned that the French wanted the committee to approach the Vietminh concerning a truce.

The committee held a meeting late in the day, but a spokesman would say only that it would be impossible for the Red Cross to act as intermediary at the request of one side because of the political implications.

Wreckage Is Sighted, Ten Feared Dead

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (INS)—Corpus Christi Naval Air Base officials reported that the burning wreckage of a Navy plane long overdue at the base and carrying 10 persons was sighted in northern Mexico.

A base spokesman said no survivors were sighted at the wreckage in a hilly sector near the Mexican town of Carrulles about 90 miles southwest of Brownsville, Tex.

A helicopter carrying doctors and medical supplies was sent immediately to the scene, but no word had been heard from the craft's crew late Thursday.

The wrecked ship, a PB4M sea plane, was due to return to Corpus Christi at midnight after taking off from the base three Wednesday afternoon on a "round robin" flight.

Big Contribution OK'd By Bonn For European Defense
BONN, Germany (AP)—The West German Bundestag (Lower House), approved a contribution of 9.4 billion marks ($2,237,000,000) for European defense in the financial year 1954-55.

This sum represents more than 33 per cent of the new federal budget of $27,173,000,000 marks ($6,466,000,000) for the year started April 1.

This contribution will be made only if the European Defense Community (EDC) is created. West Germany has agreed to contribute a half million men to this six-nation defense force.

Gross Neglect
"As far as personally am concerned," McCarthy declared, "no Truman directive or any other directive which is designed not for the security of this nation, but to prevent embarrassment of those responsible for covering up Communists, will keep me from making public the type of information we have here showing gross neglect."

McCarthy contends the 1951 "letter" shows the Army had ample warning of spy danger in secret radar laboratories. But the Army, he says, ignored such warnings.

Pentagon officials on the other side of the fence deny there was any laxity. They produced a statement from FBI director J. Edgar Hoover Thursday saying he received fine cooperation from army intelligence.

Gov. Robert Crosby uttered a clear-cut "no" Thursday to the Legislature's request that the state board of equalization appear before it.

Reminding the body that the board is a constitutional body, not answerable to the Legislature in the proper field of its authority, he reversed the act by suggesting that if any senators have views on motor vehicle valuations they might seek to appear before the board in event hearings can legally be reopened.

The challenge came at the conclusion of a 15-minute speech delivered shortly before the Legislature adjourned for the day.

The governor assured the lawmakers that the board will do its utmost to arrive at valuations "which will be just and equitable as the provisions of the law will permit."

Many senators appeared surprised at the vigor with which the governor repudied the request that the equalization board come in and tell what it was doing about motor vehicle valuations.

Bombs Rain On Rebels

Big Gaps Ripped In Tightening Red Lines

By LARRY ALLEN

JAN 01. Indo-China (AP) — Fleets of bombers swarming in as monsoon clouds lifted showed high fragmentation bombs on Vietnam troops surrounding beleaguered Dien Bien Phu Thursday. The attacks ripped big gaps in the tightening rebel lines.

Bombers from bases in northern Indo-China and from the former U. S. aircraft carrier Belleau Wood, now owned by the French as the Bois Belleau, swept in to bomb not only artillery placements but also the creeping trench systems now little more than 100 feet from the barbed wire protecting the inner fortress.

Land-based Privateer bombers carried four 500-pound bombs each, designed to explode above the ground with deadly intensity among infantry. Hell divers and Beauforts from the carrier came in for more precision attacks.

1,000 Pounders Dropped
Joining in the barrage from the sky were squadrons of B-26 bombers dropping 1,000-pounders on the string of Vietnamese anti-aircraft batteries around the rim of the isolated northwestern Indo-Chinese fortress, and on the red-hot rebels' artillery emplacements in the jungle hills two to three miles away.

Seasonal tropical storms that have hampered the French union's air arm for days whipped the flat, little rice valley during the early morning hours but broke at midday to give ceiling for the air attacks.

While the warplanes struck, French mortars and artillery were plastering the rebels and waging violent duels with their batteries in the nearby hills.

Shrine Circus To Host Lincoln Star Carriers

More than 400 Lincoln Star carriers will be special guests at the Shrine circus at the 1 p.m. Saturday matinee performance. In addition to the Lincoln carriers, those from Seward, Fairbury and Crete have also been invited.

Hosts to the young merchants will be Gil Gray, the circus producer, and Jack Eldridge, public relations director.

It Happened In NEBRASKA...

Many a tenderfoot graduated to hardened "cowpoke" while making the "long drive" from Texas to Ogallala. This was the famous Chisholm Trail! Because Nebraska boasted the only railroad to the East, Texas longhorns were driven all this way for shipment to the higher-paying markets.

How surprised these rough-living cowboys would be at today's quiet, law-abiding taverns! Nebraska taverns enjoy higher standards today than ever before. It's a business respected by all!

University Geology Fraternity Pays Tribute To Dr. Condra

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

Mister Geologist of Nebraska, the venerable Dr. George Condra, was paid high honor by students of his own profession, the University of Nebraska's Chancellor and others Thursday evening.

The dean of the conservation and survey division of the state became the fourth honorary membership recipient in the history of a national geology fraternity.

He was presented the award for his distinguished work in conservation, water surveys and geology by the local chapter of the Sigma Gamma Epsilon geology fraternity.

Acting Chancellor John Selleck told the audience who gathered to honor Dr. Condra that the man has done more to bring the University of Nebraska to the citizens of this state than any other man.

"Dr. Condra," the chancellor said, "is the kind of man that makes this a great university."

A letter from Governor Robert Crosby to Dr. Condra was read in the absence of the governor. It said that "we hold you in the highest esteem in the state."

Editor of The Lincoln Star, James E. Lawrence, said that Dr. Condra "rekindled the fires of faith" in the state during the dry thirties.

"You were there in the fight,"

he told Dr. Condra, to transform the brown countryside into the green land it is today.

H. G. Greenamyre, of the National Reclamation Association, said that due to Dr. Condra's work, no other state has accumulated such a vast amount of important data on a state's water resources.

Presentation of the honorary membership certificate was made by John Harper, president of the local fraternity chapter.

Dr. Condra in accepting the certificate said "Thank God, I have had good teachers."

White Sox
Dr. Condra, who once decided between professional baseball with the Chicago White Sox and geology, said "There has been a great pleasure in the study of this earth."

Also honored at the meeting was Wayne G. Lampshire of Polk who received the W. A. Tarr Award as the outstanding graduating senior.

And James D. Lowell of 901 So. 17th Apt. B-2, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lowell, received the $750 Magnolia Petroleum Company Fellowship Award.

Use Of Butler Co. Tracks Is Settled At Public Meeting

Lincoln Star Special

DAVID CITY, Neb. — A feud between the Butler County Supervisors and the county's Agricultural Society Board regarding the use of the fair ground's race track was settled at a large public meeting held here.

Fair board members had been given verbal notice by a supervisor that they could no longer use the track for stock car racing. A ditch was later cut through a portion of the track making it unusable.

The fair board asked why they were being restricted from using the grounds for the betterment of a public affair when an occupant of the grounds has lived there for many years with out cost. Profits made on stock car racing had been given to the board.

At the meeting J. L. Vavrina, chairman of the board of supervisors, proposed that the fair board lease the fair grounds with freedom of use but responsibility for upkeep and insurance. The board asked for time to consider the offer.

The county board also agreed to remove the present occupant from the grounds and post "No Trespassing" signs if the fair board does not accept the offer of a lease.

Russian Granted Refuge In Norway

OSLO (INS) — Norwegian police said that a Russian has crossed the frontier into northern Norway and been granted political asylum. There was no comment, however, on a newspaper report that the Russian was a Soviet intelligence officer.

The newspaper Verdens Gang said the fleeing Russian belonged to Soviet intelligence, recalling the recent cases of Soviet secret police Capt. Nikolai Khokhlov surrendering in West Germany and Russian Agent Vladimir Petrov obtaining asylum in Australia.

Muralist's Selection Due May 15

Selection of the artist who will paint three murals in the rotunda of the Capitol Building is expected to be made Saturday afternoon, May 15.

The work is being financed by a $40,000 appropriation voted by the 1953 Legislature.

Fred N. Wells, Lincoln, chairman of the Capitol Murals Commission, said sketches submitted by the seven artists being considered for the job will be opened for the first time Thursday.

A jury of four will go into executive session Thursday to consider the sketches and will report to the Commission at 11 a.m. May 15.

Each juror will have a vote and the nine-member Commission as a whole will have one vote in the final selection, Wells said.

Jurors are Lee Lawrie, Easton, Md., sculptor; Hildreth Meire, New York City, designer and muralist; Frederick Sweet, curator of painting at the Chicago Art Institute, and Marvin Robinson, Lincoln, architect.

Miss Meire and Lawrie, along with Col. Harry F. Cunningham of Lincoln, who is a member of the Commission, are the only living persons who had a hand in the designing of the Capitol, Wells said.

Action On Taxes

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Senate Finance Committee, in another "secrecy session," tentatively approved a tax provision which would allow some 1,300,000 parents to continue to claim deductions for children, even if they earn over $600 a year.

The tax-writing senators also were reported to have accepted a provision of the House-passed tax revision bill lifting the ceiling on charitable contributions deductions from 20 to 30 per cent.

Probe Deplored

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — Leaders of industry arriving here deplored what one of them called the "crucifixion" of Secretary of the Army Stevens in Washington.

Some members of the Business Advisory Council, which opens its spring conference with Secretary of Commerce Weeks here Friday, said the Army-McCarthy furore may make it much more difficult for the administration to draw top businessmen into government jobs.

Dulles Fears The Worst In Indo-China

... He Speaks Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles is reported pressing a Far East policy which recognizes that, short of a military miracle, the major part of Indo-China may be lost to the Communists.

The plan is reported based on an estimate that any "united action" plan which can be devised may be too late to save Viet Nam, the biggest and richest of the three Indo-China states.

The present American strategy, it was learned, calls for the United States to concentrate on guaranteeing along with other countries the defense of neighboring Laos and Cambodia.

These two Indo-China states have a combined population of some 4 1/2 million people as compared to Viet Nam which has more than 22 million inhabitants including the big cities of Hanoi and Saigon.

Shipments to Continue

Informants said the U. S. government attitude does not mean that this country will abandon Viet Nam, or that all hope that it will be saved has been lost. It was emphasized that massive American shipments of military supplies will continue to go forward to French union forces there as long as there is a fighting chance the critical area can be held.

Dulles arranged to give a television and radio "Report to the American People" Friday at 7:30 p.m., CST, over a coast-to-coast network to discuss plans for meeting the Indo-China crisis.

The State Department said Dulles' half-hour address would be carried "live" over the ABC television network and on NBC, CBS and Mutual Radio hookups at 7:30 p.m. CST. CBS-TV will show a film report of the speech at 10:15 p.m. CST and ABC radio will carry a rebroadcast at 10 p.m. CST.

Demos Confident

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders in the Senate expressed confidence privately that they have enough votes to send the Taft-Hartley revision bill back to the Labor Committee.

Three key Southern Democrats said in separate interviews they would join a move expected to be made Friday by Northern Democrats to recommit President Eisenhower's recommended changes in the nation's basic labor law.

HST, Lewis Chat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Truman and UMW President John L. Lewis, one-time foes, got together for a friendly chat and Lewis said he wished Truman was still in the White House.

Truman called at United Mine Workers headquarters and spent a half hour with Lewis and UMW's international executive board. Lewis said Truman had long ago expressed a desire to visit the UMW offices.

Cut Rate Butter

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government offered its 360 million pounds of butter on the world market at cut rate prices in efforts to move it before it spoils. The butter was bought during the past 12 months under a dairy price support program. The government's investment—the original buying price and storage cost—averages about 67 cents a pound.

Corporal Parts With

Goering's Sport Car

NEW YORK (AP) — When Cpl. Richard P. Dutot, 23, said goodbye to the Army, he left in style—in a low-slung sports car once owned by German Field Marshal Herman Goering.

Dutot of New Hyde Park, N.Y., was discharged at Camp Kilmer, N.J., and stopped by the Army Base on Staten Island to pick up the car he had brought back from overseas.

The black Mercedes-Benz, for which Dutot said he had paid about $2,500 in Germany, was kept in Army storage, until the corporal's discharge.

Death Penalty Restored

Russ Killers Restored

LONDON (AP) — The Kremlin reimposed the death penalty for murderers in the Soviet Union.

Moscow Radio said the move was taken "at the request of citizens and public organizations... and in order to increase the protection of the lives of citizens."

The death penalty for all but traitors, spies and "diversionist agents" was abolished in the Soviet Union in January, 1950.

POSTCARD

Holiday visitors of all nationalities jammed Paris at Easter. Germans far outnumbered everyone else. Loaded with hard money, liverwurst sandwiches, health and prosperity.

The losers are doing better than anyone in Europe. The Germans are demilitarized and hence have no military budget. They have nothing to do with their time and money but make Volkswagens, Porsches and consumer goods and sell them to the winners.

The correspondents have been going through Paris on their way to Geneva. Most papers are setting up for at least a three months session.

The talk here is that the whole thing will be so complicated, nobody will understand it until it is all over.

Mr. Molotov rented a lakeside villa at $280 a week. He has a delegation of 220 and has imported caviar.

Mr. Chou En-lai took a chateau and did it over for $28,000, brought in a delegation of 200 and prepared to entertain with ancient eggs and birds' nest soup.

Rail Crossing Caution Urged

Motorists are urged by Col. C. J. Sanders, Nebraska Safety Patrol, to exercise more care at railroad crossings.

A recent railroad crossing accident at Central City took the lives of four persons and another accident this week at Hershey claimed the life of one man.

The Hershey accident brought the 1954 railroad crossing toll to 10. There were four crossing deaths at this time last year.

Sanders commented, "The increasing number of crossing accidents should be evidence that motorists will have to exercise more caution at railroad crossings. If Nebraska is to see a decrease in this type of traffic accidents."

'54 April Toll Down
In reporting further on Nebraska's accident situation, Colonel Saunders stated that Nebraska experienced 19 traffic deaths during April. This was a decrease from April's toll of 22 deaths in 1953.

The Patrol's records showed that nine of April's total of traffic deaths resulted from two-car accidents, three resulted from one-car accidents, three were pedestrians, two resulted from train-car collisions, and two were from farm tractor accidents on public roads.

The analysis for April also showed that 13 deaths were on state highways, three were on county roads, and three on city streets. Night time accidents accounted for 10 deaths, while nine occurred during daytime hours.

New Trial Asked In School Ruling

Washington County School District 39 has filed a motion for a new trial in Lancaster District Court which upheld the validity of a teacher-pupil ratio rule of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The District's Rose Hill high school near Blair was not approved for free high school tuition funds for 1953-54 for having less than the five to one pupil-teacher ratio.

The motion is seen as a step toward perfecting an appeal to the Supreme Court in the case which contested the constitutionality of the ruling under delegated powers of the Legislature.

This has been noted by the French and British press as a possible struggle for power.

The London Daily Mail still has an expedition in the Himalayas looking for the "abominable Snowman." While waiting, they will run the life story of the Aga Khan.

A valuable contribution to the social and political history of our century.

What I read in the papers is the London Sunday Express Crime Reporter. While foreign ministers juggle teacups, this is something I can understand.

The "Tattooed Nurse" is on the loose a gain. She has tattoo marks on the right arm and left hand. She loves dinner services, tea sets, clothing and jewelry. And often disappears with same shortly after slipping the thermometer in your mouth.

American correspondents here think the French overplayed the Dien Bien Phu battle. It was to have been a gallant stand and a winner. An Oriental Verdun. But it has been backfiring into a Custer's last stand.

As historians have noted, Custer's last recorded statement was: "Where did all those Indians come from?"

The French papers today think some gains were made at a cocktail party at M. Bidault's villa. Mr. Molotov did not show up and Mr. Chou was not invited. The French press is not sure just how this improved the situation but they think it did anyway.

The other day I went down to Harry's New York Bar on the Rue Daunou. At Harry's you get hot dogs with a slight French accent and a faded breath of F. Scott Fitzgerald's golden Twenties.

It was in Harry's that Hemingway and Dos Passos and other virile literati burned midnight oil on world affairs. While Germany struggled with the Versailles Treaty and the Austrian paper-hanger got ready to do it all over again. Only better.

Harry's was nearly empty. The bartender brought me two hot dogs. They were on French rolls and steaming with Dijon mustard. The bartender was reading the sporting news and had the radio turned to a French soap opera.

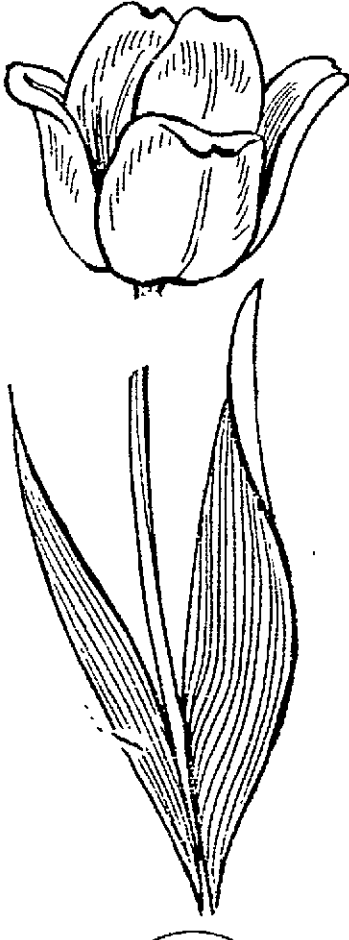

The walls were lined with clippings of nostalgia about Harry's New York Bar. A number of them were from "Life" when it was a popular humor magazine.

After awhile I took a taxi and walked along the Champs Elysees. The shops were loaded with fine French goods at moderately high prices.

At the sunny sidewalk tables, the French sat writing letters and reading the afternoon papers. About Geneva and Dien Bien Phu.

I sat down near two gentlemen without newspapers but in animated conversation. Couldn't understand it though. They were working on platters of the charcuterie Alsacienne and speaking German.

Soil Moisture Picture Bright

... Subsoil Supply In State Wheat Areas Much Better

An encouraging report on soil moisture from April 19-30 to a depth of 4 feet in wheat fields located 10 miles apart throughout the main Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

The subsoil moisture supply is considerably more favorable in the state's wheat growing areas than it was a year ago.

And while surface moisture conditions were reported less favorable than last year, the tests were made prior to the general rains that fell during the last days of April and early May.

Tests were made during the pe-

9.8 inches in height, or 4.6 higher than a year ago.

Wheat plants showed greatest growth in the south central area where the average height was 12.8 inches and least in the central area where the height averaged 7.8 inches.

Very little winter killing was noted on the trip this spring, the report stated.

Top soil was dry and loose during the late winter and early spring months, and high winds during this period resulted in considerable wind erosion in some areas, principally in the southwestern Panhandle, south central and southwestern areas of the state. Much wheat has been or probably will be abandoned in these areas, the report said. But such abandonment appears to be localized and some good wheat is present even in these areas. Root development is very good and the plants in general have a healthy color.

Fallowed Fields Better

The survey indicated that moisture penetration is better in wheat fields that have been summer fallowed than in non-fallowed fields. The depth of penetration in summer fallowed fields is 44.5 inches, 5.2 inches more than in continuous cropped fields. However, the average depth of dry top soil is approximately one inch greater in fields which have been summer fallowed.

The first foot of soil in summer fallowed fields is drier than in the non-fallow. There's little difference in the second foot but in the third and fourth feet of soil, moisture is much better supplied in the summer fallowed fields. Only 10 per cent of the tests in the third foot in fallowed fields were dry as compared to 42 per cent in the continuous cropped field. In the fourth foot, the comparable percentage of dry tests was 16 and 42, respectively.

The general appearance of the wheat is "quite good," the soil surveyors said.

Congressmen, Motorcyclists Jostle For Choice Probe Seats

... Dispute Settled By Cops

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Everything happens at the Army-McCarthy hearings.

Two men squeezed through the jammed aisles to the front of the room, and finally sat on the edge of the platform on which the television cameras are perched.

There, it turned out, they were in the way of the messenger motorcyclists who rush the photographic film downtown to be processed. A jostling for position inevitably began, and it wound up with one of the motorcycle jockeys calling a cop.

When the policeman arrived to referee the fight, one of the men said plaintively:

"We got just as much right to be here as they have. We're members of Congress!"

They're Standing

Unfortunately, the two members can't be identified. But the policeman who interviewed them volunteered some information on congressmen and hearings in general.

He said that in the past he's had to find seats for various representatives and senators, but that this is the first time in seven years congressmen have moved in with the crowd and asked no favors.

"I'll bet you there are 10 of 'em in there right now," he said, and added in a tone of awe: "And they're standing up."

Til Domsday

The estimates on how long this hearing will last get progressively more frightening. Eleven long days ago the committee counsel, Ray Jenkins, figured 10 days would be about right.

Since then there have been such guesses as "all summer," "until Labor Day," and "many months," the last guess being tossed in by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) Thursday.

But Jenkins, in asking that the field of inquiry not be broadened, came up with most scary prediction of all.

If the field were widened, he said, "we'll be here til doomsday."

Not The Chair

Everybody is ready to make a speech at the drop of a point of order, even when the speech isn't necessary.

Chairman Mundt (R-SD)

granted a request by Roy Cohn, counsel for the McCarthy committee, but Cohn kept right on talking to him.

Mundt finally broke in to say: "The chair already has held that you have 10 minutes. I wish you would use it to interrogate the witness and not the chair."

Sen. Potter (R-Mich.) probably summed up the impressions of everyone who has sat through the long proceedings.

"I feel," Potter said, "that I've been brain washed."

Ira Beynon Will Resign Defense Post

Ira D. Beynon, Department of Defense director of real property management, announced Thursday that he will resign his Washington post and return to Lincoln next week resume his law practice.

His assistant, former Lincolnite Harold Holtz, will succeed him, Beynon said.

Swoon in office in September, 1953, Beynon said he went to Washington to get the property management section organized and felt he had completed his task.

The post includes management of defense and military installations in the U. S. and abroad and the acquisition and disposal of holdings.

A Lincoln attorney for 34 years, Beynon is a member of the firm, Beynon, Greenamyre, and Hecht. He is a member of the Nebraska Citizens Council, a director of the Lincoln Federal Savings and Loan Association, and managed the campaigns of the late Sen. Dwight Griswold.

Holtz, who was an engineer with a New York City contracting firm at the time of his appointment as Beynon's assistant, was a part owner in the Coclirane Construction Company here until its dissolution in 1947. He also served as deputy construction advisor in Greece under the Economic Co-operation Administration.

Amelia Blum Dies; Resident 50 Years

Amelia Blum, 1434 E. a Lincoln resident more than 50 years, died Thursday. She was a native of Oregon, Mo.

Surviving are her sister, Carrie Blum of Lincoln, nieces, Mrs. Irene Huber of Madrid, Neb., Mrs. Genevieve Sailors of Palsade, Mrs. Grace Dukart of Dickson, N. D., and Mrs. Gertrude Wahl of Omaha, and nephews, Lee Blum of Glendale, Calif., and Hugh Blum of McCook.

Sidles Purchases Lot

The Sidles Pontiac-Cadillac Co. has purchased a 50 by 52-foot lot on the southwest corner of 14th and Q for $14,250. Manager Roy Brown said the purchase was made "as an investment" and there were no immediate plans for the property which was purchased from the Sinclair Refining Co.

Police Officer Baker Dies

Patrolman Charles Harold Baker, 31, 2284 Dudley, on the Lincoln police force since 1931, died Thursday at his home.

Starting with the Police Department here as a car marker he became a night patrolman in 1933 and later drove a three-wheeled motorcycle for several years.

He was promoted to day patrolman in 1949 and held that job until forced to take leave because of illness.

Before joining the department he had been employed by the Missouri Pacific Railroad for a year and by the Beatrice Creamery for two years.

Born in Phillips, Neb., he had lived in Lincoln 29 years.

He was a member of East Lincoln Christian Church and the Nebraska Association of Policemen.

Surviving are his wife, Iola; sons, Kent Daniel of Lincoln and H. Weldon, at home; daughters, Mrs. Frieda Fry of Ralston and Mrs. JoAnn Sneli of Milford; three grandchildren, sisters, Mrs. William Robotham of Lincoln, Mrs. M. N. Otto of Denver and Mrs. M. E. Bowlin of Marysville, Calif., and a brother, Elmer of Los Angeles.

Salute To Salesmen Opens Plattsmouth Centennial

First Day's Activities Are Held

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Farm Editor

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb.—Centennial activities were kicked off here Thursday with a novel tribute to the hard-working "traveling man."

Called "Drummer's Fun Day," the event saw the Plattsmouth Centennial Committee and the King Korn Carnival Club play hosts to more than 250 salesmen and associate dealers who traveled through here. The King Korn group is a local booster club.

The salesmen started the day with registration at a booth on Main Street. Led by M. W. McKee, centennial chairman, and Mike Typer, Chamber of Commerce manager, the group was taken on special tours. Visited first was the new addition to the Nebraska Masonic Home, where Supt. William Evers showed the salesmen and merchants around.

Other stops were at the railroad repair shops here, at a chemical plant and at the Plattsmouth river dock where the guests boarded an Army Engineer's barge for a river trip to a quarry near here. The new Plattsmouth schools and new housing were also shown.

The Plattsmouth Lions Club rooms were the scene of an afternoon-long smorgasbord dinner for the guests. Local businessmen acted as waiters as well as picking up the check for the smorgasbord.

Mail Carrier For 48 Years Retiring
SCRIBNER, Neb. (AP)—Paul H. Walther of Scribner is looking forward to some well-earned fishing after 48 years of carrying mail on the same rural mail route.

Walther used a horse and buggy when he first took over RFD 2. He switched to an automobile in 1927 and has had about 16 cars since.

When he retired, Walther was carrying mail to the second generation of a half dozen families on his route.

School Addition Issue On Ballot

WILCOX, Neb.—The board of education of district R-2 at Wilcox has called a special school bond election for Friday, May 28. The $24,000 issue would be used to build a 22 by 84-foot addition on the west side of the present school structure.

Suplt. Edwin C. Nelson said a booming enrollment in elementary classes made additional classroom space a "must." Enrollment in elementary classes in 1949 totaled 91 and there are now 119 pupils. By 1954 elementary enrollment is expected to reach 141.

Defense Aid Seaton Figures In M'Carthy-Army Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Asst. Defense Secretary Fred Seaton Hastings, Neb., publisher, figured in the McCarthy-Army hearings Thursday.

Army Sec. Stevens told the Senate investigations subcommittee that he had been in error in an earlier statement concerning a meeting which he had said was with his staff. Actually, Stevens said, civilian officials including Seaton had been present.

"Did you learn that last night and this morning two witnesses were called in executive session?" Is that not why you de-

Seaton assisted in preparation of the Army's report on the case of Pvt. G. David Schine, one of the central figures in the McCarthy hearing.

OMAHA (AP)—Dr. Ralph J. Bunche and Trygve Lie, who have played a big part in the formation of the United Nations, will be guests at Omaha's year-long Centennial observance.

Alfred Stern, managing director of the celebration, said Dr. Bunche of the United Nations department of trusteeship would keynote Omaha's city-wide Interfaith Day June 26.

Lie, former secretary general of United Nations, will be the speaker at the Centennial's Folk Festival of the Nations on United Nations Day, Oct. 24, Stern said.

Crash Delayed Wedding; Second Takes His Bride

OMAHA (AP) — Seven months ago an automobile accident west of Omaha caused a postponement of the marriage plans of a young couple.

Milton Critchfield was scheduled to be married Oct. 14. But an auto accident early that morning sent him to the hospital with a broken back. He was on the critical list for days.

Then on Nov. 3, he was married in his room at Veterans Hospital. Three weeks later, he walked out of the hospital, leaving behind the wheel chair in which he was married.

Now he is hospitalized again and his condition is critical. His bride, 19, was dead, the victim of a two-car crash early Thursday that claimed three other lives.

Critchfield, although burned severely, managed to get out of the blazing car in which his wife and three other Omahans Donald G. Barton, 23; Mrs. Barton, 19, and their daughter, Carolyn Sue, 3, died.

Deputy County Attorney John J. Hanley said Barton was driving the car. The two young couples and Carolyn Sue had been to a movie at a drive-in theater on West Dodge St.

Dwight Schultz, 24, farmer living near Wahoo, told Hanley he was going about 50 miles an hour when the Barton car suddenly turned in front of him.

The Schultz car hit the Barton car in the rear rupturing the gas tank. The Barton car continued 94 feet, overturned on its side, and started to burn. The Schultz car rolled 324 feet and overturned on its top.

No Chance

Carolyn Sue's body was found under the dashboard and steering wheel. Officers said the two persons riding the back seat of the two-door car apparently had no chance to escape.

Riding with Schultz were

Charles Trost, 19, and Paul Munn, 19, both of the Yutan area. Schultz suffered head injuries and was reported in "fair" condition. Trost's condition was reported "good." Munn was released after treatment.

Residents of nearby motels arrived with a hose and poured water on the flames until Omaha firemen arrived. Other witnesses told of attempting to beat out the flames, but of being forced back by gasoline-fed fire.

John Flood, 25, Boys Town, said as he drew up at the scene, he saw Critchfield stumble and fall near the wreck, moaning. "My wife is in there," James W. Isari, Omaha, who also arrived moments after the crash, said he heard no human sounds from inside the blazing car.

Services for the Bartons are scheduled for 2 p.m. Friday. Last rites for Mrs. Critchfield are pending.

Van Horne Will Not Seek Democratic Post For Governor

OMAHA (AP) — Edwin N. Van Horne, president of the Omaha Federal Land Bank, who has been mentioned as a possible Democratic candidate for governor, said Thursday he would not seek the post.

Van Horne acknowledged he had received calls from persons over the state urging him to seek the post, but he said "I am not thinking about it. I'm giving it no serious consideration."

Earlier, Cattleman Lawrence Brock of Wakefield came out in support of Van Horne for the post.

In a statement released through Democratic party publicity channels, Brock said he has found increasing sentiment among farmers, livestock men and bankers favoring Van Horne as a candidate for the nomination.

Van Horne is a native of Pawnee City. He has headed the land bank for 12 years and has extensive farming interests throughout the state.

Brock said that because of Van Horne's extensive experience in farming, banking and business generally, the land bank president is well equipped to give the state a sound, businesslike administration.

Outstanding Students At NWU Cited

Nebraska Wesleyan's 29th annual Honors Convocation Thursday morning saluted students at the school for outstanding achievement in academic areas.

Dr. Edgar N. Johnson, professor of history at the University of Nebraska, was the main speaker using "Democracy and Learning" as his topic.

"It is possible to imagine a time to come when the democratic dream will have vanished and learning as we know it will have turned into an unquestionable orthodoxy," Dr. Johnson asserted.

The speaker pointed out that in his estimation, the democratic ideal is "the meaning, the satisfaction, and the promise which gives vitality to the will to survive," the larger realization of which is the greatest hope of man.

Pointing out that the "Fascist and Communist" states have turned the world into a battle field from whose ruins we have not yet arisen," Dr. Johnson declared:

"The conviction has thus become general in the West that if man is to give meaning and hope to his existence this can only be done in a democratic world at peace."

"Peace, then, is essential to the successful functioning of democratic states and societies. To get it we need more than a simple desire for it, or for the democracy we wish to see develop in it. We need also a certain vital faith in the noble qualities of the human being and in his will and capacity to give quality and beauty to earthly life."

"Only a world of meaning, of deep intellectual, moral and spiritual satisfaction and of great promise, can inspire mankind with a sufficiently strong determination to act to stave off the holocaust of another world war."

PARIS (AP)—The French National Assembly Thursday gave Premier Joseph Laniel and his cabinet a 311 to 262 vote of confidence. This authorized the government to continue to negotiate at Geneva for an end to the Indo-China war.

Laniel probably has much less support than the 49-vote margin would indicate. Many deputies said they did not fully approve Laniel's policies but that they felt it would be unwise to throw the government out just as talks were starting in Geneva on Indo-China.

The vote of confidence was on a procedural point. Laniel insisted on the liberty to fix a date for a debate on Indo-China. Many of the deputies wanted to set May 14, but Laniel said this was too soon because of the Geneva conference.

The premier now will be able to call the debate whenever he thinks the negotiations at Geneva have yielded maximum results.

No breakdown of the vote was announced, but it was known that many deputies who had supported Laniel on previous occasions deserted him Thursday. Among these were a number of Radical Socialists, who obtained or voted against and members of the Union for Republican and Social Action (URAS), the followers of Gen. Charles De Gaulle. Many mem-

Preferential Power Said 'Going Out The Window'

By JIM LARSON
Star Staff Writer

It looks as if the matter of preferential power for public agencies is "slowly going out the window," John Clema, executive secretary of the Nebraska Rural Electric Association, said Thursday night.

He gave an illustrated lecture on the "Power Situation in the Missouri Basin" at a public meeting at the College of Agriculture. The meeting was sponsored by three University of Nebraska clubs—Block and Bridge, Agronomy, and Agriculture Economics. About 25 persons attended.

Clema referred to the latest development in the federal government's power policy in saying that the preferential philosophy developed under Teddy Roosevelt was "going out the window." That development came last week end when the Interior Department and Budget Bureau recommended passage of legislation to provide federal aid for non-federal reclamation projects and non-federal participation in federal projects which contains no acreage limitation or power preference provisions.

Basic reclamation law limits delivery of federal irrigation water to not more than 160 acres of irrigable land in one ownership. Clema said not enough had been learned about this latest development to "sink our teeth into it."

Clema also referred to the apparently lost battle in the attempt to reaffirm the preferential "in perpetuity" policy in connection with the Falcon Dam. The Falcon Dam was recently completed as a joint U.S.-Mexican project. The United States, however, had not established a plan of distributing power from the dam before its completion. That made necessary an enabling act, which would permit the sale of the power from the dam to REA's and similar public power agencies. The enabling act was sought as a vehicle to reaffirm the preferential policy.

Clema traced the Nebraska power setup, pointing out that the 36 REAs have an investment of $100 million and serve 94,000 rural customers.

Rural electrification has reached the 94 per cent mark compared to about 10 per cent less than 20 years ago, Clema said.

He pointed out that electric consumption is growing by leaps and bounds. In the last two and one-half years, rural consumption has doubled, he said.

Tax Conferees Are Likely To Reverse Policy Of Secrecy

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) told the Senate Finance Committee it should reverse its policy of secrecy on tax bill decisions and there were indications it may be done.

Chairman Milliken (R-Colo.) who sponsored the secrecy policy, announced that the matter had been "reconsidered" at Thursday's closed session and would be reviewed further.

Milliken said that as of Thursday he still could not tell the press what has been decided on sections of the omnibus tax revision bill.

Anybody interested in breaking with the law and legally getting away with it?

You'll get your chance Sunday at the State Fair Grounds when the Lincoln Police Department demonstrates, for the benefit of the interested public, how radar works in checking speeders.

The citizenry is invited to drive past the machine and compare their speedometer readings with that shown on the radar device. In this manner, the department says, it will be possible to show how people who think they are driving within the limits could be deceived by faulty speedometers.

An electronics expert, Burt Davis, technical consultant for KFAB radio station and advisor to the Kansas State Highway Patrol, will be on hand to explain the more intricate details on the workings of the machine.

The radar demonstration will take place just inside the 17th St. entrance at the State Fairgrounds and will continue from 10:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. throughout the day.

Any drivers wishing to check their speedometers against the accuracy of the radar machine may do so, police said, without fear of arrest. Outside the grounds is a different matter, though.

Inter-County Feud May Develop At Burial Case Probe

A Statehouse hearing of a mortuary's handling of an accident case may turn into a public airing of an inter-county feud Friday.

Kenneth Maev, operator of the Marcy Funeral Home at Ashland, has been summoned to appear before the Nebraska State Board of Examiners and Embalmers at 10 a.m. Friday.

He will be questioned regarding a case in which he was fined $10 in Sarpy County Court for burying a body without a signed death certificate.

The body was that of a traffic victim who died in a Sarpy County accident. The Marcy Funeral Home is in Saunders County.

Maev confirmed that there were inter-county grievances between Saunders and Sarpy officials and morticians and said the facts would be brought out at the hearing.

James N. Kahler, operator of the Kahler Mortuary at Papillion in Sarpy County, said "there isn't any feud that I know of."

However, Kahler said he certainly would be on hand for the Friday hearing.

R. A. Whitstine Given One-Year Pen Term

Case 'Solved,' Pen Murder Suspect Undergoing Psychiatric Examination

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The suspect-murderer of Penitentiary Guard John Claussen is being examined by psychiatrists, Lancaster Co. Atty. Frederick Wagener said Thursday in announcing a "definite solution" in the case has been reached.

Wagener would not identify the suspect other than as one of the 19 inmate workers in the prison print shop where Claussen was killed April 19. No investigation details were given.

The 70-year-old supervisor of the print shop was slugged as he sat in a chair in the print shop, eating his lunch. Then he was dragged behind some type filing cases where his throat was slashed with his own pocket knife.

Key To Charges

First-degree murder charges will be filed against the inmate if he is found legally and medically sane by the examining psychiatrists, Wagener said.

"But no announcement can or will be made as to the criminal charges that can be made until after the examination is complete," he said.

Wagener said four Lincoln psychiatrists, whom he declined to name, are to examine the inmate and "their reports will not be ready until sometime next week."

"We are guarding against impulsive legal action until their findings are reported," he added.

Closing Loopholes

Wagener explained that indications of "legal" or "medical" insanity would have a bearing on the prosecution of the case. "We are closing up all loopholes."

"I am satisfied the solution of the John Claussen murder has been reached," Wagener said. "The same solution has been separately reached by all the investigators in the case."

"The investigation has been thorough and meticulous," Wagener said. "Every fact was confirmed as was humanly possible."

Nothing For Granted

Wagener, in charge of the investigation, said that early in the probe, evidence pointed to one or two individuals and finally to one inmate.

Both inmates and prison guards underwent lie detector tests and reports made back in writing, he said. "These reports were dovetailed with those of other investigators in confirming known facts. Nothing was taken for granted."

Examination of physical evidence by the FBI Laboratory in Washington helped to "clinch and fortify" the case, he said.

Co-operation Praised

Wagener declined comments when asked if a confession had been obtained from the suspect, but said the individual had been talked to by Sgt. Robert Nichols, lie detector expert with the State Safety Patrol, Chief Dep. So. Atty. Elmer Scheele and Dep. Co. Atty. Dale Fahrbruch, and himself.

Wagener said he regretted he had been forced to withhold pertinent developments because of the "magnitude" of the investigation but it "was necessary to do that in order to facilitate and perfect the investigation."

Wagener praised the work and co-operation of all individuals in the investigation.

He named Capt. Harold Smith and Sgt. Nichols of the Safety Patrol, Det. Lt. E. R. Henninger, lie detector expert with the Lincoln Police Department; Sheriff Merle Karnopp; Asst. Police Chief Gene Masters, and Warden Herbert Hann.

Final Review Set For Armory Plans

Architect's plans for the proposed National Guard armory at Fremont are expected to be ready for final review next week, Col. H. R. Turner of the adjutant general's office said.

When they have been approved here, the plans will go to Washington for examination by the National Guard Bureau.

Turner predicted construction could begin at Fremont by the end of June.

Plans for a new armory at North Platte will be ready for review "in two or three weeks," Turner predicted.

Plans for the Scottsbluff armory already have been approved by Washington authorities, subject to minor changes. As soon as the architect has had time to make the necessary corrections a date for opening bids will be announced.

Damage Suit Ruling Favors Defendant

A Lancaster District Court found for the defendant Melba Jean Segoviano of 2120 No. 28th in an accident suit in which $5,150 damages for personal injuries were asked by the plaintiff.

Darrel Jones, two years old at the time of the accident on May 13, 1953, brought suit by his mother, Sylvia Jones of 2122 No. 32nd, for alleged head injuries which caused permanent scars. The two-car accident occurred at the intersection of 28th and Hitchcock.

House Gives St. Lawrence Seaway Approval

50-YEAR DISPUTE ENDING

Ocean Craft Will Be Able To Reach Toledo

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional approval of the St. Lawrence Seaway after more than a half century of controversy was virtually assured Thursday night, with prospects that ships from the Seven Seas will be able to sail as far inland as Toledo, Ohio.

Spurred in large measure by President Eisenhower's statement that the seaway is needed for national defense as well as for economic reasons, the house voted 241-158 to authorize this country to join Canada in building the channel.

Three of Nebraska's congressmen, Republicans Curtis, Harrison and Miller, voted with the majority for passage. Rep. Hruska, also a Republican, was paired for the bill.

All that remains is the adjustment of minor differences with the Senate bill before sending the measure on to Eisenhower for his signature.

Eisenhower, in a statement late in the day, hailed the House vote as "the end of a long and historic effort." He said the seaway would "contribute materially to the economic well-being and security" of both the United States and Canada.

Sen. Ferguson of Michigan, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, predicted the Senate would accept the House version without further ado, which could place the completed bill before Eisenhower by Tuesday.

Proponents say construction of the seaway, which will take an estimated six years, will open up the prospect of great new economic development of the Great Lakes area and the Midwest.

When completed, the 27-foot deep channel will enable ships of the Victory and Liberty classes, for example, to pass directly from the Atlantic Ocean to inland ports on the Great Lakes. Ships of this size have a cargo capacity of 10,000 tons.

The idea of the seaway, making it possible for much of the world's ocean-going shipping to sail the St. Lawrence, was first seriously put forth in 1895 and has been urged by every President since Woodrow Wilson.

Navigation of the river now is restricted to ships with a draft of 14 feet or less because of a 46-mile stretch of rapids near Ogdensburg, N.Y.

27-foot Canal
The legislation passed Thursday permits elimination of this shipping bottleneck through the digging of a canal—the "seaway"—27 feet deep.

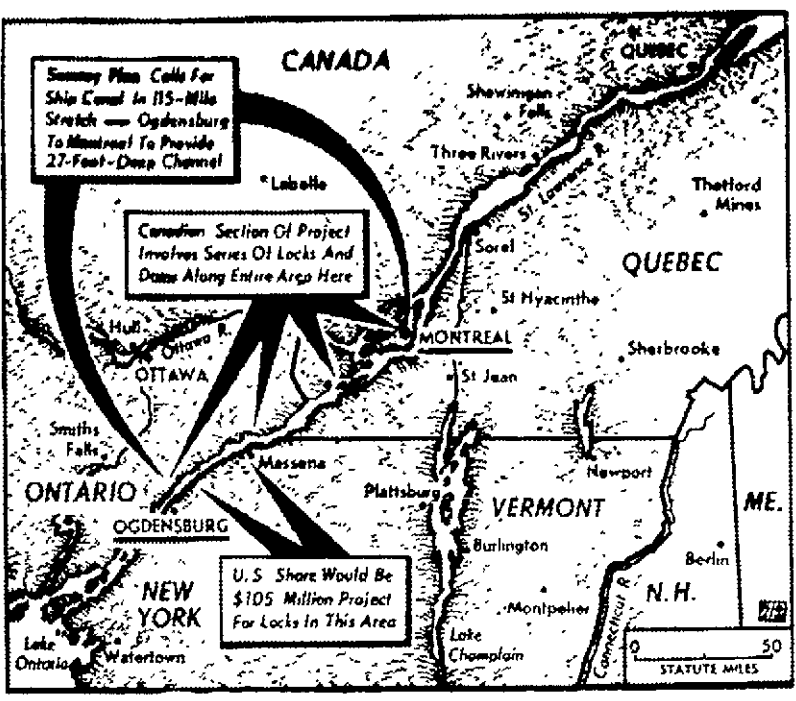

The canal became a practical proposition only after the Federal Power Commission last year granted New York state a license to build, with the province of Ontario, a giant 600 million dollar hydroelectric project.

The granting of this license is now being contested in the courts, with indications that a decision may be reached by early summer or fall.

The U.S. share of constructing the seaway is estimated at 105 million dollars. Engineers estimate that Canada will be required to spend slightly more than 200 million dollars to build its part.

This country's share would be financed by the sale of 105 million dollars in revenue bonds to the Treasury, to be redeemed from the proceeds of tolls and other charges.

The St. Lawrence legislation, first presented to Congress 20 years ago, has been fought by railroads, Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports, coal producers and private power utilities.

St. Lawrence Seaway Project

The map shows the area involved in the long-disputed St. Lawrence Seaway plan. The House of Representatives approved a measure providing for $105,000,000 in revenue bonds to supply funds for construction of the U.S. share in the proposed 27-foot-deep waterway between Ogdensburg, N. Y., and Montreal. The Canadian part of the project involves more extensive construction of locks and dams. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Mass Truth Tests Are Under Way

A. M. Josephson, new LaCrosse, Wis., County crime investigator, demonstrates lie detector test methods he will use on 1,750 LaCrosse students volunteering in a drive to obtain a lead in the disappearance of Evelyn Hartley, 15.

22 Students, Teachers Take LaCrosse Lie-Detector Tests

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP)—Twenty high school students and two teachers took lie detector tests as one of the largest mass questionings in criminal history began here in an effort to find a clue to the disappearance of Evelyn Hartley.

Dist. Atty. John Bosshard said the questioning of the 22 took five hours. He gave no indication of what results were obtained. The tests will continue, he said, until more than 1,700 male high school, vocational school and college students and teachers in the city have been questioned.

Thursday's tests were made at Central High School, where 15-year-old Miss Hartley was an honor student. The daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Richard Hartley disappeared last Oct. 24 while baby sitting for a neighbor. Authorities found indications of

John Gies Jr. Fined $100, Loses His License For Second Speeding Offense

Much-arrested John Gies Jr., of 5073 Orchard, lost his driver's license for six months and was fined $100 in Municipal Court Thursday after pleading guilty to a second offense speeding charge.

The fine was levied by Judge John Jacobson following a bit of court hilarity during which Gies' attorney told the court Gies was thinking of buying a smaller car so he wouldn't get in so much trouble.

The attorney, Lester Dunn, told the court that "he's a big, powerful man. Your Honor, and when his foot gets down on the accelerator, he just gets going." The prosecuting attorney, Rollin Bailey, said he heartily agreed that Gies should get a smaller car.

Gies is on bail pending appeal of a fine of $100 and 10-day jail term from an Omaha court after he was charged and found guilty of speeding at night. Gies had just been fined $300 and costs on three separate charges prior to his being picked up in Douglas County.

And only 25 minutes after his first speeding arrest the same day, Gies was stopped on a speeding charge by Safety Patrolman C. P. Karlhauser of Lincoln who testified against Gies in court Thursday.

After the sentencing, Gies, visibly disturbed by the severity, jokingly asked the court if the drivers license revocation also applied to driving bicycles.

Since 1941, Gies has paid in Municipal Court in Lincoln and

Barracks Blaze Kills 1, Injures 6

BREMERTON, Wash. (INS)—One man died and six were injured Thursday when a pre-dawn flash fire razed the petty officers wing of a barracks at the Naval Torpedo Station at Keyport, Wash.

The dead man is Navy Torpedoman 1c Henry Danson, 30, of Worcester, Mass. Hospitalized with burns was Marine Sgt. Toivo Nasi of Marysville, Wash., who the Navy said turned in the alarm and then raced through the blazing building to rouse 48 sleeping men.

Flames spread so fast few men could reach fire escapes, and most jumped from windows of the two-story frame building. The dead man was found near an emergency exit.

Chaplains Should Give Key Values—President

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower charged military chaplains with the task of instilling in America's soldiers the religious values which he said are vital to "defend freedom against totalitarianism."

The Chief Executive emphasized his oft-expressed conviction that free government must be founded on a deeply-felt religious faith. He spoke briefly at the 22nd annual convention of the Military Chaplains Association.

He told the Army, Navy and Air Force chaplains it is their job to see that every soldier knows what he is fighting for and understands the basic principles for which America stands.

'3 Yanks Held On Chinese Charges'—Red

GENEVA (AP)—Huang Hua, an official Red China spokesman, said Thursday night three Americans seized more than a year ago in a yacht off the China coast, are being held on charges of "violating Chinese law."

The three are Donald Dixon of New York, a correspondent for International News Service; Richard Applegate of Medford, Ore., a former United Press correspondent in Korea and an employee of the National Broadcasting Co., at the time of his capture; and Ben Krasner of Brooklyn, a merchant marine captain.

Earlier Thursday a Chinese spokesman had admitted for the first time that Dixon was being held on the Chinese mainland, but made no mention then of the other two.

Huang refused to elaborate on the charges nor would he say where the three are held. He declined to comment on a report from a Canton source last week, which was received in Hong Kong, that they had been given prison sentences of three to five years. But the spokesman said he hoped for more information in a few days.

The three Americans were captured March 22, 1953, while en route in Applegate's yacht from Hong Kong to Macao, a nearby Portuguese port in the China Sea.

The U. S. delegation in Geneva said there were no specific plans yet for any direct moves with the Chinese at the Geneva conference for release of the three Americans.

For the past year there have been only periodic, unconfirmed reports from the Chinese mainland concerning Dixon, Applegate and Krasner. The Chinese never had admitted officially before that they were being held.

Businessman's Approach Said State's Need

OMAHA (AP)—The "businessman's approach" is needed in the management of state affairs, Victor E. Anderson of Lincoln told the Douglas County Republican Women's Club.

"Managing the state is big business," said Anderson, Lincoln hardware dealer and former mayor who seeks the Republican nomination for governor.

"What would a businessman do if he found it was costing him more each year to do business? He would immediately look at every item of overhead and expense to see which items could be adjusted, reduced or eliminated. He would then make those adjustments."

"I have said on several occasions that if we in Nebraska seriously want to reduce taxes, we must reduce spending and also get more value from each dollar spent. We can do both."

CHESTER, Neb. — Billy A. Stierwalt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvie Stierwalt of Chester, was presented the commendation medal pendant with Combat "V" for heroic action in the Korean War, at a banquet and program sponsored by the Chester Community Club.

U. S. Marine Corps officers presenting the award to Cpl. Stierwalt read the following citation quoted in part:

"Cpl. Billy A. Stierwalt for heroic service serving with a Marine infantry company during operations against the enemy in Korea on July 8, 1953. Serving as a wireman, Cpl. Demo Chiefs Attack Administration Foreign, Domestic Policies

GOP Public Power Stand Condemned By Democrats

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic National Committee interlarded attacks on the Eisenhower administration's foreign and domestic policies Thursday with action backing chairman Stephen A. Mitchell's quit-the-race blast at James Roosevelt and Rep. Robert L. Condon of California.

While some party speakers urged restraint on the foreign policy issue, they were unanimous in condemning the Republican stand on public power. Committee members approved by standing vote in a closed session a resolution praising Mitchell's "great and untiring efforts in behalf of the Democratic Party."

Sam Brightman, national publicity director, said the resolution was approved after Monroe Sweetland, Oregon national committeeman, had cited the issue raised by Mitchell's letter to Paul Ziffren, California national committeeman, suggesting that Roosevelt and Condon withdraw as candidates for Congress.

Roosevelt, involved in a sensational divorce case, and Condon, who was barred from atomic bomb tests but who denied any Communist links, both declined to quit the race.

"Great Courage"
Sweetland told reporters he suggested that the national committee study possible adoption of a rule barring the chairman from taking any stand in future primary campaigns.

The committee took no action on this proposal. But it applauded a statement by Edgar A. Brown, South Carolina committeeman, who praised Mitchell's "great courage and leadership" in offering the resolution of appreciation for the chairman.

Asserting Mitchell had "led the Democratic Party to perhaps the highest point of political morality in the history of political parties in the United States," Brown said he regards Democratic prospects for victory in this year's battle for control of Congress as "excellent."

Mitchell, who was hand-picked for the chairmanship by former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, the party's 1952 presidential nominee, has announced he will resign after the November election.

GOP "Split"
At a foreign panel attended by fewer than 50 persons, Sen. Gillette (D-Iowa) blamed what he called a split in the Republican administration for "an astounding and unprecedented reversal" at the Geneva conference on Indo-China.

Gillette said the "diplomatic disaster" suffered by Secretary of State Dulles at Geneva "has already cost the United States a heavy loss of influence in Europe and will surely cost us an even heavier if not complete loss of face in Asia."

Rep. Samuel W. Yorty, Democratic candidate for the Senate in California, told the panel group there is no such thing as a Republican "new look" military policy. He said the only policy thus far has been to reduce U. S. air strength.

Eight Democratic Congress members and Kenneth Holm, Groton, S. D., who is seeking the seat of Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.) attacked the administration's policies on natural resources and public power. They contended the Republicans are opening natural resources and public power to the "grab bag boys."

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) accused the administration of "following up the big giveaway of a portion of the national resource programs by cutting funds for them."

Paraguay—
President Status Is Mystery
Revolution Quelled, But Chaves' Fate Not Clear

ASUNCION, Paraguay (AP)—The commander-in-chief of Paraguay's armed forces announced Thursday night the end of the attempted revolution started Wednesday by a cavalry division.

A communique issued by Gen. Alfredo Stroessner said order had been re-established in the 1st Cavalry Division which revolted against the government of President Federico Chaves.

The announcement made no mention of the fate of President Chaves.

It said other armed forces remained loyal to the commander-in-chief and the national committee of the Colorado Party, Paraguay's only legal political party. It added that calm prevailed throughout the country.

This was the first dispatch received direct from Asuncion since trouble broke out Wednesday.

The end of the revolt was first announced by the Asuncion Radio Thursday. The remainder of this dispatch was received from Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Calm Returned
A second announcement carried a statement by Tomas Ferreira, president of the Colorado party's governing council, saying the revolt had ended and calm had returned to the Central South American republic.

But neither announcement made any mention of Chaves, the 74-year-old president who had kept Paraguay in a period of comparative calm since 1950.

The radio confirmed the death of Police Chief Roberto L. Petit during the revolt and carried a communique signed by the new police chief, Lt. Col. Mario Ortega.

Housing Project Continues Skyward

Five youthful residents of the 37th and Prescott Ave. neighborhood have apparently taken it upon themselves to solve their own "housing problem" by building a tree penthouse. The ground floor was started last summer, with the second and third stories being added during the mild portions of the winter and this spring. There is an inside entrance from the ground floor to the top of the structure, which is located at 37th and Prescott Ave. Here, Allan Maybee (left) of 3710 Prescott Ave.

Others, not shown, who joined in working on the project are Bobby Reynolds of 3824 So. 40th, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reynolds; Hitoshi Utsumi of 3701 Prescott Ave., son of Mr. and Mrs. Masami Utsumi; and Karl Thierstein of 3710 Prescott Ave., son of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel T. 7 Men Wounded In Escape Attempt HAGERS TOWN, Md. (AP)—Guards trying to prevent the escape of 10 inmates from the Maryland State Reformatory for males early Thursday night shot and wounded seven prisoners, officials reported.

Superintendent Clement J. Ferling said none of those shot was believed seriously hurt and all 10 were recaptured.

The reformatory was the scene of two riots by inmates last fall. Ferling said the inmates scaled a 20-foot fence topped by barbed wire which surrounds the recreation field next to the main building of the institution. The field had been opened only a few days ago for summertime use.

Guards in the towers fired a couple of warning shots over the heads of the fleeing fugitives, and guards outside the walls quickly went to the scene. They fired buckshot into the group, striking some of the prisoners.

Wilson To Visit Chiang
TOKYO (INS)—Panama News Agency said that U. S. Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson is due on Formosa, Chinese nationalist stronghold, on May 19 for what was called "a survey trip."

The agency said Wilson is expected to stay on the island for five days and to attend the inauguration of President Chiang Kai-shek.

Public Opinion Poll Testing GOP Candidates' Strength

The strength of Republican candidates for senator and governor is being put to a test throughout the state.

John B. Quinn, Lincoln public relations counselor, is conducting the public opinion mail poll for an "undisclosed" client.

The postcards, which are being mailed to voters throughout the state read:

"This Republican poll is being conducted in Nebraska to determine the current strength of candidates, both potential and actual. The results will furnish a valuable yardstick and guidance to pre-determine comparative strength of those who have filed or who may become candidates.

The names of the declared candidates for senator—Terry Carpenter, Robert Crosby, Carl Curtis, David Martin and Walter Nielsen—are listed on the cards. Also included are Fred Seaton, now serving as assistant secretary of defense, and Arthur J. Weaver, Lincoln insurance man.

Favorite Choice
However, not all of the names are listed on all of the cards. Quinn explained that the listing was according to his own formula for determining public opinion. The pollster is asked to check his favorite choice.

The same procedure was followed concerning the gubernatorial choice. Charles S. Reed, Omaha attorney, is listed along with the declared candidates, Victor Anderson and Frederick Wagener.

Weaver, when contacted by The Star, said he "hadn't heard anything about the poll. It is news to me. I haven't given any thought to running for the Senate. I am busy with my own business."

Reed could not be reached for comment.

Quinn, when questioned about the political leanings of his client, said he did not know if the individual were an Eisenhower supporter or a "Bricker amendment" backer.

Quinn said he was polling 4.5 per cent of the total Republican state vote in the 1952 election. He said this exceeds any percentage measured in any national poll, which is usually based on less than 1 per cent.

Proportionate Share
He is also checking according to the proportionate share of urban and rural votes in the state, with 47 per cent of the polls covering urban residents and 53 per cent rural.

Another factor which the poll will try to determine, he said, is the Republican strength on the basis of the number of votes cast by Republicans and by Democrats in 1952. Cards are being sent on a percentage basis to members of both parties to determine if there is any switching of party support.

Quinn said he also expects to use the random approach and poll civic and organizational leaders to see if they are "in tune" with the grassroots opinions.

This is the first of a series of polls which Quinn expects to conduct for his client.

Sen. Carmody Eyeing First District Post

Sen. Arthur Carmody of Trenton, veteran of seven legislative sessions, indicated Thursday he probably will file for the Republican nomination for Congress rather than seek re-election to the United States Senate.

He said he was not seeking the United States Senate seat, nor am I running for Congress in the Second, Third or Fourth Districts," he smilingly told reporters.

"Neither am I a candidate for governor. No one has come forward with promise of any financial support for the governor's race, and I am a man of only ordinary means. It costs money to run for governor," he continued.

"And I am not a candidate for state treasurer, either."

"But I am interested in running for Congress in the First District (his own) and I have had some offers of financial support," he said.

He added, however, that he would not make a final decision "in the immediate future."

The only Republican who has filed so far for the nomination for the post which Rep. Carl T. Curtis of Minden will vacate next January is Phil Weaver of Falls City.

Curtis has filed for the nomination for United States senator.

Reds Get Explanation Of H-Bomb Explosions

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Army newspaper Red Star warned the Russian public that underwater hydrogen bomb explosions are the most dangerous of all.

The newspaper described the effects of the H-bomb under water, high in the air, just above the ground and underground, indicating for the first time that the Soviet Union may have experimented with all these forms of thermonuclear explosions.

All that Premier Mohammed Mossadegh asks about the new Iranian oil line is they put the main valve in his cell.

Five big American tame-eaters have mushroomed over Mossy's head like a Yucca Flats cloud.

Way back in 1951 Mossy nationalized the oil industry in Iran. He wanted to be known as the Oil Khan.

That marked the finish of the Anglo-Iranian concessions in the Caspian East. Mossy had rubbed the gold plate off Aladdin's wonderful flashlight.

One more turkey shoot like that and Iran was down the drain. Not a wheel turned in the Whirling Dervish district. Mossy was looking for a toe-hold on a prayer rug.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. Locations Of 12 Nebraska Safety Patrolmen Shifted Shifts in the locations of 12 Nebraska safety patrolmen, effective June 1, were announced by Col. C. J. Sanders, head of the patrol.

The changes are in connection with the new police, starting June 1, of using Highway Department civilians to operate truck scales and give drivers

Patrolmen who will be transferred in order to put men where traffic is heaviest include Allan Bligh, from Norfolk to Lyons; Duane Collins, Trenton to Kimball; Gerald Essley, Omaha to Falls City; Robert Gude, O'Neill to Plainview; Arnold Lisee, Columbus to David City; Gerald Lynch, York to Hastings; Irwin Molec, Grand Island to York; James Plantikow, Trenton to McCook; Edward Pokorny, Omaha to Falls City; John Skinner, Plainview to Ainsworth; Donald Wolverton, Lincoln to Exeter, and Sgt. C. E. Watson, Hastings to Grand Island.

Chappell Mayor Fatally Stricken

CHAPPELL, Neb. (P)—Vern M. West, 60, who Tuesday night was installed Chappell mayor, died apparently of a heart attack two miles east of Chappell on Highway 30, while driving truck.

West, former Chappell superintendent of schools in the 30s and a semi-retired farmer, apparently was returning from his farm.

The truck left the highway, and ran into a ditch.
